Sarah Gunn
CO-AUTHOR OF "THE TUNIC BIBLE"

Come & meet author, blogger and seamstress extraordinaire, Sarah Gunn. A trunk show featuring her handmade wardrobe pieces will be on display, as Sarah shares her experience creating customized wardrobe to suit your style, along with several of her creations for every occasion!

The presentation will be preceded by a meet and greet reception starting at 6PM with Ms. Gunn, including pot-luck of pupu and desserts. Please feel free to bring your own special dish to the pot luck. This event is free and open to the public.

In 2016, Sarah and her co-author, Julie Starr, published "The Tunic Bible" – One Pattern – Interchangeable Pieces – Ready To Wear Results.

This book won the 2017 Pattern Review's "#1 Best Woven Top" Pattern.

Sarah has posted several videos on YouTube: "Goodbye Valentino" and "Story behind the Tunic Bible". Creator of the popular sewing blog, Goodbye Valentino, according to Sarah Gunn, "If you can read a recipe, you can read a pattern. If you can drive a car, you can operate a sewing machine. If you can shop, you can SEW."

Hawaii Stitchery and Fibre Arts Guild will host Sarah Gunn during a 2-day Workshop at the Blaisdell Center on November 10 and 11, 2018. This will be a sewing workshop based on her book, "The Tunic Bible". Registration is required.

Aileen's Message

HSFAG PRESIDENT, AILEEN KANESHIRO

NOVEMBER 2018 PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

October's White Elephant Sale was the largest in recent history thanks mostly to Mary Kamiya who donated (literally) boxes upon boxes of vintage fabrics and notions and Patricia Greene who contributed boxes and boxes of fabulous books! Thanks too to everyone else who contributed to the cause and purchased new found treasures. $247.75 was raised for the Orpha Herrick Memorial Scholarship Fund! The University of Hawaii has indicated that they will identify a recipient in the spring. Thank you, everyone, who helped to pack up and especially Eileen Roether who took the books for the Friends of the Library and Evelyn Nakamura, who carted off the rest of the unclaimed items.

The make-and-takes courtesy of Cynthia Oshiro, Sue Larson, and Aileen Chong and the coiled bowl demo by Laurie Matsushima kept us occupied throughout the evening. I'm also glad that Carrie Johnson helped so many of you to complete your Bead Soup necklaces. It would be so nice to see them worn at the November meeting and it would make a good impression for our special guest presenter, Sarah Gunn.

We had a wonderful Second Saturday prep session while visiting Lorraine Tokuyama at Palolo Chinese Home. Lorraine still has her skills! She cut all the circles needed for the Second Saturday group project which will be a large polka-dot piece in homage to the Japanese artist, Kusama Yayoi. Thank you to the other volunteers who helped to prep for the "Flipping Face Book" project: Eileen Roether, Rendy Chow, Cynthia Oshiro, and Carrie Johnson. Carrie even volunteered to take home the cardstock. She cut, punched holes, counted off, and bagged over 1,000 business card size pieces for Second Saturday.

Please let Eileen Roether know if you plan on attending the Christmas party (hawaiiاعي@hotmail.com). Sue Larsen is looking for a caterer for our holiday soiree. If you have a suggestion, please email her at sue@kukanadesigns.com. Thanks to Ann Castner, our party will be at Capitol Place this year.

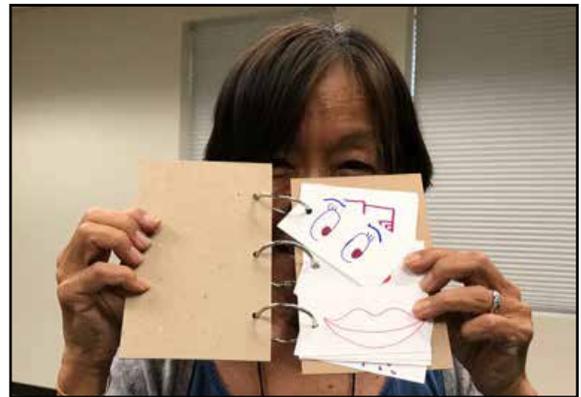

If you have any friends that enjoy sewing their own clothes, the November meeting is the perfect one to invite them to attend. The meeting should be an inspiration to anyone who would like to create her own look that actually fits right. It's a potluck so please think of a pupu dish or dessert that will showcase the wide variety of delicious food of Hawaii. We will have cardstock available to label the dish as a courtesy to Sarah Gunn. See you at the meeting!

October Fun

Carrie would be so proud

MAHALO Second Saturday Volunteers!

Thank you to all the volunteers who helped make this year's Second Saturday possible. The ladies who helped with the prep session have been separately acknowledged. Thanks to the women who were there at HISAM on the day of the event: Ellen Owens, Cynthia Oshiro, Alisa Au, Erika Ramirez, Trunolyn, Kristen Yoshida, Rendy Chow, Helen Yoshiday, June Hidano, Laurie Matsushima, and Gale Sugiyama. People showed up before starting time and kept us nonstop busy for the first two hours. The pace calmed to a more relaxing pace for the second half. I think the group art piece in homage to Yayo Kusama is my favorite so far. We asked participants to check out our website to see how the final piece turned out—it's a way to get traffic in our site...
